THE CATS' LAIR

SAFARI JO DOES IT AGAIN! The Thundercats find themselves in even more demand than usual this issue, as they become the targets of a deranged intergalactic big game hunter. Safari Jo has already captured Wilykat, Wilykit and Cheetara – and he just hates gaps in his collection! There are unpleasant surprises galore in store from the crazed huntsman in part two of Safari Jo! You may notice something a little different about the centre pages of THUNDERCATS this week. Our special Spider-Man insert is more than just a four page comic strip – it has an important message for all our readers too. Whatever you do, don't skip past that one! Not that we've forgotten our magnificent Mini-Poster series, of course – which should please Nathan Willock of Birmingham, Jan Shears of Co. Fermanagh and Ellen Andrews of Suffolk, who all requested the cover to THUNDERCATS 8. Snarf puts in an appearance with more of your Thunder-Chat on page 16, followed by the start of a brand new Power Pack adventure. The Power's Mother falls seriously ill – and not even their Kymellian-spawned superpowers can help her. Or can they? The title is Guess Who's Coming To Dinner, and it's eight episodes of Power play as we know you like it! THUNDERCATS 28 – ready? – it's good!

HEART OF GLASS!

What have we here? A Thundercat jewel thief? Or is Lion-O just out for a spot of crystal gazing? The trinket in question is a crystal of pure Thundrillium, a precious source of energy for the Thundercats. Only one other known supply exists on Third Earth – and Tygra almost lost his life in the Cave of Time whilst searching for it. But when a recurring dream offers Lion-O the tantalising glimpse of an almost limitless supply, it's only the beginning of a perilous quest to a forgotten city, and an ancient mystery lurking at The Heart of Xurdimur! Be here in seven days!

THUNDERCATS

The hunt is on! Safari Jo, best big-game hunter in the galaxy, captures Wilykat and Wilykat in the sky, above Third Earth. Next to fall is Cheetara, tripped by a jet - clomp from Jo's deadly Gatling rifle...

THE SECOND SHOT POURS A TORRENT OF WATER ON THE HELPLESS THUNDERCAT.

THUNDER-CAT

Dear Snarf,
Please would you help my sister to find a boy pen friend? Her name is Kelly McCombie, she is nine years old and her hobbies are swimming, football and playing on her bike. Could you tell me who your oldest reader is? Do the Thundercats ever fall in love? And don't get rid of Power Pack – they're good.

Do Thundercats fall in love Tracy? Well...I'm kind of sweet on Katie in Power Pack myself, so you can bet they'll be staying around awhile longer! I've printed your address in full, so jump to it, you male Thunderfans – warm up those biros! As for our oldest reader, look no further than the next letter...

Dear Sir/Madam,
I know you will not believe this – but here goes anyway. I am thirty years old, I am a Roman Catholic priest, I have a First Class Honours degree, I am a Fellow and Member of various International Academic Societies, including the Royal Institute of Philosophy. I am a poet who has published in America, Britain, Ireland and Australia and I have just published my first book with another coming out next year – what is all this about?

Simply to let you know that I am not crazy, nor am I being funny, when I say I LOVE THE THUNDERCATS MAG!! I get it each week from my newsagent and I came across it quite by accident. In my work it is important that we keep in touch with things, so many of us watch a lot of children's programmes, eg: He-Man, Thundercats, and so on. This helps us relate to young children. I recently took a THUNDERCATS mag to a Philosophy conference I attended and got it back in shreds since so many of my colleagues borrowed it after each session and lecture!

Anyway, thanks for great escapist entertainment which is both relaxing and interesting.

Glad to have you aboard, Father! Proof positive that THUNDERCATS has the most varied, cultured (and imaginative) audience around!

Dear Snarf,
I love your comic, and I have got Lion-O, Cheetara and the ThunderTank. I have a lot of your comics as well, and I think that THUNDERCATS number 1 was a very good comic.

No disagreement there, Claire – and if I do say so myself, number 28 aint too shabby either!
